In a time of national and regional real estate firms, Bach & Associates wanted homeowners to know that it was a 30-year old locally-owned company that really understood the Frederick County market and continued to serve its customers with high touch service. The site offers this with iconic images of Frederick County, dynamic function, and extensive informational content.

Cashbox specializes in the collection and accounting of funds donated to non-profit organizations (NPO) throughout the nation. Yes, you've probably written checks to your favorite charitable organization that have been received here. The owners wanted to speak to NPO development professionals, explaining how Cashbox yields greater returns for their clients while making their work easier. The headlines and body copy that were written for the site are intended offer the same tone one might find in a compelling NPO case statement to prospective donors.

Federated Charities

Federated Charities is Frederick's oldest NPO whose principal function is making office space available to other NPOs at a substantially discounted rate. In doing so, Federated Charities supports the efforts of the Frederick Arts Council, Heartly House Legal Offices, Keystone Services, Legal Aid Bureau, Mental Health Management Agency, Mission of Mercy and United Way, which collectively touch the lives of tens of thousands of local residents each year. In offering this, the site ultimately provides a case for making an online contribution to the organization.

Frederick Periodontal Associates goes to great lengths to ensure that its patients get state of the art dental care, delivered by its superb staff in an environment that feels much like a spa. I can attest to this because I am a patient. The site design is intended to reflect this with a color palate and graphic elements that mirror those found in FPA's beautiful new offices.

Grove & Dall'Olio Architects is a multi AIA-award winning architectural firm based in West Virginia's eastern panhandle. And yes, Matthew Grove is my kid brother.
